Blast At Ike May Have Ruined Taft's Floor Leader Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Senate Republicans were in disagreement today on whether Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio ruined his chances for GOP Senate floor leader by his attack on President-elect Eisenhower's choice for secretary of labor.

One Republican lawmaker, a staunch Taft backer who asked not to be quoted by name, foresaw as a result the "draft" of Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, the present floor leader, for another term.

But another Taft supporter, also requesting anonymity, said an organized effort would be made to elect Taft to the post. He would not predict the outcome, but said the drive would be stopped only if Taft removed himself from consideration.

Bridges spread word soon after the Nov. 4 election that he wanted to pass the leadership job to other hands and take over the less burdensome duties of the temporary president of the Senate.

In case of a dispute over his successor, however, Bridges has been regarded as available for another term as floor leader.

The New York Herald Tribune reported today that "Sen. Bridges has now changed his mind and is now known to be willing to continue in this post to promote party harmony."

Taft has declared he is available for the post. His only avowed rival is Sen. William Knowland of California, who has said he is in the race against anybody except Bridges.

Too few senators were here—and too chary of commenting—to give a clear picture of the likely upshot of Taft's denunciation of Eisenhower's selection of Martin P. Durkin of Chicago to the labor post in the new Cabinet.

Taft himself, in a telephone interview yesterday, said the effects of his action on the Republican party as a whole are "matters that haven't arisen yet."

He said he has been in touch with some GOP senators but declined to say whether they indicated support for his position. He said he is getting reaction from all over the country, but parried questions about whether it was favorable or critical reaction.

Taft also said he has been in contact with Eisenhower's headquarters since his Tuesday statement, but did not say with whom he spoke or what was said.

Stevenson Says He And Truman Won't Block Ike

States They Will Not Wage War On Him For Party Advantage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said today he and President Truman are in complete agreement not to wage war on Dwight Eisenhower's program simply for party advantage.

And, he told reporters at a White House News conference, the Democratic party's two major problems are: 1. To wipe out a deficit of more than half a million dollars and 2 To "serve the public interest."

Stevenson spoke to newsmen after conferring with President Truman at the White House, the Washington residence for which he bid in his unsuccessful campaign for the presidency.

He made no major pronouncements at the news conference, but chatted amiably with reporters who plied him with questions about his political future and that of the Democratic party.

The Illinois governor did say these things:

1. He has no immediate plans for the future other than to take a long rest and possibly to travel abroad.

2. He knows of no plans for a change in the top leadership of the Democratic National Committee, but it may be necessary to reorganize the committee structure because of the deficit in funds.

He added he expects his handpicked national chairman, Stephen A. Mitchell, to stay on in the job.

3. It is up to the Democratic leadership in Congress to serve as "the instrument of being constructive and a wholesome influence in our public life."

He sidestepped a question of whether he thought there were enough Democrats in Congress sharing his and the President's views to "exert much leadership" in the new Congress.

Stevenson said he didn't want to venture an opinion on that.

A crowd of some 200, mostly women and children, met Stevenson at Washington's National Airport last night and shouted and waved one reply to that last question.

Some chanted "We want Adlai" and others "Stevenson in '56.' There were banners that read "retrieve with Steve."

The Illinois governor and defeated Democratic presidential nominee was noncommital. He told the welcoming group, "I have only this to say aside from my gratitude—I'm not coming back for four years."

To inquiring reporters Stevenson said, "I came at the invitation of President Truman. I suppose we're going to discuss the Democratic party and have a little farewell dinner."

There was no elaboration. It was not clear what Stevenson meant by "not coming back for four years."

The "farewell dinner" was a reference to tonight's final dinner gathering of President and Mrs. Truman, Stevenson, Cabinet officers and "some former members" of the Cabinet.

2 School Buses Involved In Road Mishaps

Four minor traffic mishaps, two involving school buses, were investigated by Salem State Highway Patrolmen in the past 24 hours.

Jack Watson, 19, of Salineville was cited by patrolmen for failure to yield the right of way after he allegedly pulled in front of a school bus driven by Wilbur Hayes, 26, of RD 1, Salineville at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday on a county road just north of Highlandtown.

Little damage to each vehicle was caused by the collision.

A school bus operated by Foster Treep, 33, of East Rochester and a car driven by William Shaver, 26, of RD 1, East Rochester sideswiped at 4:20 p.m. Wednesday on a county road about two miles north of East Rochester.

William Wenning, 56, of New Brighton, Pa. was cited by patrolmen for failure to yield the right of way after his car collided with one operated by Earl Gladden, 19, of Lisbon at 9:05 p.m. Wednesday on Route 14 at the foot of the Millville Hill. Wenning was fined $5 and costs on the charge by Mayor Lloyd Culler of Washingtonville.

John Fitzpatrick, 52, of Salem reported to patrolmen that his car collided with an unidentified car at 12:15 a.m. today on Route 165, one-half mile east of its junction with Route 62. The driver of the other car sped away after the mishap, he said.

CIO Convention May Elect Reuther Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, chief of the CIO United Auto Workers, was expected to be chosen as president of the CIO today at a convention finale.

Reuther, believed all along to have sufficient votes to become the late Philip Murray's successor as top man in the CIO, gained added strength as the voting stage neared.

Forces backing Allan S. Haywood, 64, the CIO's executive vice president and a veteran union leader, conceded nothing to Reuther in a hot fight for the presidency.

However, two unions previously favoring Haywood, the Brewery Workers International and the American Radio Association, swung to Reuther.

This gave Reuther an estimated 80,000 more convention votes. There are about 700 delegates, each representing numerous members. Reuther is estimated to now have delegates representing about three million votes backing him compared with 2½ million votes from delegates supporting Haywood.

Haywood maintained he would carry the fight for the CIO leadership to a deciding roll call. In the CIO's 17-year history it never has been necessary to carry any question to a convention showdown.

Haywood may pull out before the issue goes to a convention floor test if a deal can be worked out giving his forces sufficient recognition under a Reuther administration. It was widely predicted beforehand that Haywood, even if actually nominated, would decline in Reuther's favor.

Probe Of Reds In U. N. Deepens

State, Justice Depts. Said Blocked Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional inquiry was under way today into alleged efforts by the State and Justice Departments to delay or tone down a federal grand jury charge of Communism in the United Nations.

The investigation was launched by a House Judiciary Subcommittee less than 24 hours after juror Max Zimmerman accused the government agencies of teaming up to interfere with its sharply-worded presentment.

Chairman Chelf (D-Ky) and Rep. Keating (R-NY) said "serious charges of delay, interference and hampering" had been leveled against the Justice and State Departments.

"Allegations indicate that two months ago, a 'certain faction' within the Justice Department attempted to have the grand jury drop its inquiry into communist activities in the United Nations," the lawmakers announced, adding:

"These charges will be thoroughly and completely explored by the subcommittee staff and investigation is presently under way, both in New York and Washington, to determine the full facts."

The International Monetary Fund meanwhile, disclosed its secretary has been fired after refusing to tell a Senate Internal Security Subcommittee whether he was ever a Communist or a wartime spy.

The secretary Frank Coe, said at his Arlington, Va., home he did not "care to comment." He denied that he was a Communist in sworn testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1948.

Truman May Leave Korean Solution Up To Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Truman administration apparently plans to make no further policy moves to solve the Korea situation. The next step, officials said today, will be up to President-elect Eisenhower.

Officials said today it will be up to the incoming regime to make any fundamental changes such as prosecuting the war beyond its present limits or putting additional economic or military pressures on Communist China.

The Truman administration is said to feel no new policy moves are advisable before Eisenhower's inauguration seven weeks away. Two reasons are advanced:

1. Any large undertaking could hardly be completed before Jan. 20, thus committing the new administration to deal with a program it may not approve.

2. The United Nations' fight in Korea is an Allied fight, requiring Allied co-operation in any policy development. Before agreeing to a new project, it is said, the U. N. Allies would want to know how the Eisenhower administration feels about it.

Korea Issues Top List

Korean issues are regarded by authorities here as topping the list of foreign policy problems prepared for study by John Foster Dulles, chosen as Eisenhower's secretary of state.

Dulles conferred with Secretary of State Acheson, Assistant Secretary John Allison and Under Secretary David Bruce yesterday in the course of arranging a smooth transition of policy controls. Dulles also called on Secretary of Defense Lovett.

Possible policy developments lie in two fields. Ultimately, authorities here believe, steps will be taken in one or both unless an armistice is arranged fairly soon.

Offensive Advised

On the military side, some high American officers in the Far East reportedly have advised Washington that the best hope of ending the war lies in launching a major offensive. Destruction of the Communist forces, rather than the gaining of territory, would be the primary objective.

Military men who hold that view are expected to make firm recommendations to Eisenhower during his Korean trip.

Such an offensive would require several more divisions of American troops, according to military estimates. It would also mean abandoning attempts to make peace along the present stalemate line. Moreover, other Allied governments are authoritatively reported extremely reluctant to carry the war deeper into North Korea and any American policy decision will have to take those views into consideration.

Family Of 7 Dies As Home Burns In Youngstown

Leaking Propane Gas For Cooking Believed Cause; House Leveled

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (AP)—Firemen today blamed leaking propane gas for a raging fire that flashed through a frame dwelling and wiped out a family of seven.

Assistant Fire Chief Frank Lehnerd said the gas, used for cooking, probably overcame all of the victims before the fire broke out last night.

Killed were Henry Tochman, 34, a bakery route salesman; his wife Catherine, 32; and their five children, Henry Jr., 13; Patricia, 10; Carol, 8; Mary Grace, 4, and Jo Ann, 2.

Their one-story home just northeast of this city was burned to the ground.

Bodies of the father and mother were found in the living room. They were believed to have been watching television when the fire started around 11:15 p.m. Four of the children were in beds in two bedrooms.

The other child, Mary Grace, was taken alive from the fiery dwelling by a neighbor, but was dead when she arrived at a hospital.

Emil Sotkovsky, 27, summoned by Mrs. Ann Sudon, a neighbor who saw the flames, dashed out of his house to carry the one child from the burning home. Clad only in his underwear and without shoes, he raced across an open field, donning his pants on the way.

"The smoke was so dense I couldn't see anything," Sotkovsky said. "So I started to feel around and I felt a baby crib and a baby huddled in a corner. I picked up the baby and ran outside and gave it to Mrs. Sudon.

"I tried to go back into the house, but the fire and smoke kept me out this time."

Donnelly Resigns Germany Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter J. Donnelly, a career diplomat for nearly 30 years has resigned as U. S. high commissioner to Germany, administration sources disclosed today.

These sources, who asked not to be quoted by name, said Donnelly informed President Truman he wishes to enter private business. The nature of that business was not known.

The 56-year-old diplomat has been the top ranking American official in West Germany since July 18, when he was named to succeed John J. McCloy.

U. N. Tackles Bitter Dispute Over Tunisia Independence

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee, weary from its long debate on Korea, turned today to another bitter dispute—over Tunisian demands for independence talks.

Winding up consideration for the moment of the Korean problem, the Assembly yesterday entrusted its president, Lester Pearson of Canada, with the task of sending the overwhelmingly approved Indian peace plan to Red China and North Korea.

Although the delegates coupled with it a plea for quick acceptance by the Pyongyang and Peiping governments, little hope was held that the two Red nations would okay the proposal to let the U. N. eventually take over prisoners of war who refuse to go home—sole issue blocking peace talks at Panmunjom. Both governments as well as Russia have already condemned the plan.

Faced with a host of other prob-

3 Pittsburgh Pen Convicts Still At Large

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—The rapid-fire capture of two more escaped convicts from Western State Penitentiary in Pittsburgh today left three of the most dangerous fugitives still at large.

An alert taxidriver spotted Marvin R. Loveland, 31, in this Northern West Virginia city before dawn today. He tipped police who closed in and captured Loveland without incident.

Wednesday night, another escapee, Leo L. Stiles, 37, gave himself up to a gas station operator in the hamlet of Clarksburg in Southwestern Pennsylvania.

All told 10 prisoners made a break for freedom instead of attending church services Sunday. Of the eight who made their escape good, five have now been caught.

Quits In Protest Over President's Coal Wage Okay

Truman Allows $1.90 Daily Hike To Avert Crisis Under Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman's wage board chairman quit his job today in protest over the President's approval of an extra wage boost for coal miners above and beyond the recommendations of all top defense agency officials.

Archibald Cox, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board, waited only overnight to resign. He made no formal statement, but told a reporter the White House might have something to say this afternoon. The Truman action, while counter to recommendations of his stabilization lieutenants, did assure a year of peace in the coal mines.

The President yesterday approved the full $1.90 daily wage increase for John L. Lewis' 375,000 soft coal miners because, he said, he does not want President-elect Eisenhower to have a coal strike crisis on his hands when he takes office.

The move averted an almost certain strike, but it opened the door to a boost in coal prices to consumers and touched off unrest among public members of the Wage Stabilization Board.

One WSB member also said Truman's decision would have a "terrific and disappointing effect" on unions which in the past have accepted WSB reductions and now have wage cases pending before the board.

Coal miners themselves—whose basic minimum daily wage is boosted $18.25—were reportedly jubilant. One top United Mine Workers official at Pittsburgh said the move "undoubtedly averted a strike." John Busarello, president of UMW District 5, said his men had been getting "itchy" over delays.

Lewis had negotiated the $1.90 increase with industry, but the WSB had cut this to $1.50 on the grounds that any more would "irreparably damage" the stabilization program.

Lewis and Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, appealed the WSB decision to Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam.

But Putnam refused to overrule his board. And Defense Mobilizer Henry H. Fowler also refused to change the WSB decision. That left it up to the President—and his inner circle of advisers.

Truman's decision to grant the full $1.90, announced in the form of a letter to Putnam, said the "probable consequences" of a fail-

Stevedore Firms Admit Payoffs

Waterfront Probe Opened In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Stevedoring firms have acknowledged making big "good will" payments to union leaders, dock bosses and steamship company officials to keep labor peace and to obtain business on New York's waterfront.

Opening of public hearings yesterday by the New York State Crime Commission lifted the lid on alleged crime and racketeering in the city's seven billion dollar a year shipping industry.

It has been estimated the industry's annual losses run to 350 millions because of such things as pilfering, smuggling, and pay kickbacks by longshoremen to their union bosses.

An opening day's witness was white-haired Ruth M. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the stevedoring firm of Daniels and Kennedy, Inc. Miss Kennedy testified that gratuities are "an established practice in the business."

The witness said her firm, in five years, paid $7,500 to Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association.

In 1948, Miss Kennedy testified, checks were drawn to fictitious persons and the money was turned over to dock union officials.

"In 1948," she said, "we had some labor trouble and we thought it would be easier for the people getting the money to hide their identity."

Miss Kennedy's nephew, James C. Kennedy, president of her firm, also testified the payments were "gratuities only."

He was asked: "Were they to influence union officials and to prevent quickie strikes and other troubles?"

"If they prevented strikes, that was all right," Kennedy replied.

"You invested in good will?"

"Yes," said Kennedy.

Kennedy said his firm, for years, gave Ryan $500 each spring and $1,000 each Christmas. Smaller payments went to other ILA men, he said, and also to representatives of the AFL Teamsters Union and the AFL Warehousing and Paper Handlers Union.

From private testimony, the commission quoted Capt. Douglas Yates, a vice president of Jarka Corp., the city's largest stevedoring firm, as saying the company could not be sure of enough help to service ships without the aid of five certain ILA men.

The commission further quoted Yates as saying: "We wanted these people at our beck and call."

60 Night Clubs In Chicago Bar Entertainers

CHICAGO (AP)—Owners of nearly 60 night clubs in the Chicago metropolitan area barred entertainers Wednesday night in protest against a strike called by the American Guild of Variety Artists against four night spots.

A spokesman for the owners said token strikes were ordered in four other cities.

More than 300 entertainers, including strip teasers, were affected by the shutdown. The four struck clubs, including two in suburban Calumet City, were closed. The clubs remaining open had music but no entertainers.

In Cincinnati, however, Robert Edwards, national branch manager of AGVA, said no token strikes have been ordered yet in this area, which includes northern Kentucky.

Most Greater Cincinnati operators are paying or are expected to pay the assessment, Edwards told a reporter.

Body Is Found In Store Fire

Mansfield Police Say Robbers Hit Woman

MANSFIELD, O. (AP)—The body of a woman believed slugged by robbers was found in the blazing office of a super-market early today, Police Capt. Paul Whipp reported.

He identified her as Mrs. Leah Sternbaum, 31, wife of Ernest Max Sternbaum 40, treasurer of a super-market chain with stores in Mansfield, Fremont, Willard, Ashland and other cities.

Capt. Whipp said it appeared robbers had set fire to the office after slugging Mrs. Sternbaum and her husband. Sternbaum was found unconscious in an alley behind the office. Mrs. Sternbaum's body was charred by the time firemen were able to enter the building. The building was damaged extensively.

Sternbaum was taken to a hospital for treatment. He told police he was in one room of the office, which is in a separate frame building at the rear of the supermarket, when he heard two men enter the place. He was hit on the head, he said, just after one of the men said "I hear someone coming."

The market owner said he did not see either of the men.

Both Sternbaum and his wife were working late at the office, which also has a small printing establishment.

Police said they made several unsuccessful attempts to enter the building office before firemen arrived, but each time were driven back by flames.

Coroner D. C. Lavender said his preliminary check of the case indicated that a blow on the head had killed Mrs. Sternbaum.

Capt. Whipp said it had not been determined if any money had been taken in the robbery. The police report said the intruders had taken Sternbaum's billfold, watch and ring, but that later the empty billfold and watch were found outside the office.

Police reported they had picked up a 21-year-old Mansfield man for questioning.

Government Pushes Warren Holdup Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — The government took a new tack today in its effort to send Julius Petro, 30, and Joseph Sanzo, 22, to 25-year prison terms on charges of staging a $71,000 Warren holdup.

They said they soon would show how $655 of the money grabbed from banker Charles Foley, 36, in a roadside holdup Aug. 14 was traced to Petro and Sanzo, both Clevelanders.

This, continued government attorneys, will be the second phase of their case.

So far in the trial, in its fourth day today, the prosecution has concentrated on "positive" identification of the two.

Mrs. Henry Alden, 42, of Warren, insisted on the stand Wednesday she saw Petro and Sanzo speeding away from the robbery scene. Her son, Carter, 19, identified Petro as the driver of the robbers' car.

Defense attorneys stated at the outset of the trial that neither of their clients was in Warren on the day of the holdup.

Election Laws May Be Changed

Congress Committee Suggests Broadening

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disclosure that Eisenhower boosters spent at least $1,200,000 in pre-convention activities without reporting it brought a suggestion from a congressional committee today that election reporting laws be broadened.

The expenditure, made by the Citizens For Eisenhower Committee, did not have to be reported under present law, which requires political committees to report only receipts and expenditures in a general election.

The spending to help win the Republican presidential nomination for Eisenhower was disclosed Wednesday by Walter Williams, chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, to a special House committee studying possible election law revisions.

Chairman Boggs (D - La) told newsmen it indicated the need for some system of determining how much is collected and spent in an entire campaign, from the time a candidacy is boosted until the time the election takes place.

Other committee members expressed similar sentiments but agreed that the main difficulty facing Congress is the question of whether control of primary elections and pre-convention activities is a field in which Congress has jurisdiction. Heretofore, Congress has proceeded on the theory that the states alone hold jurisdiction over primaries and other non-general election activities.

Williams said he does not know how much other Eisenhower partisans may have spent in the general's successful drive for the GOP nomination. His own committee, he said, collected about $1,694,000 for general election work and spent $1,200,000 of it.

There have been no pre-convention figures reported by Democratic groups but the committee hoped to hear this afternoon from Stephen Mitchell, Democratic national chairman, who was billed to testify.

Hamilton Official Raps Tavern Sales

HAMILTON, O. (AP) — Hamilton city councilman Arthur Wilson today headed a campaign against taverns which sell liquor to minors.

The council, acting Wednesday night on a motion by Wilson, directed the city manager to order a drive against taverns which allow teenagers to buy liquor.

"If I can find out where cafes serving minors are operating, so can the authorities," said Wilson as he related he had received four complaints about one establishment, three about another and two about two others.

The council's action came less than a week after Mary Ann Fildes, 17, died of a fractured skull shortly after leaving a tavern with a still unidentified man who had said he would take her home. Butler County officials have called her death murder.

State liquor department officials have been investigating in an effort to determine whether the girl was served beer in the cafe. They have not yet made a report.

"captain of the men of death"

PNEUMONIA is a disease which strikes swiftly and proceeds quickly and dramatically to a crisis. Until recent years little could be done to help the patient. The brief decisive struggle between the infection and the patient earned for pneumonia the dreadful title, "Captain of the men of death."

In the parlance of the army, the captain has been "busted." First came antipneumococcic serum, which removed one bar. Later, powerful sulfa drugs and, more recently, penicillin teamed up with serum to break the captain completely. All of these powerful weapons are kept in readiness in our prescription department, waiting only for the physician's order.

New Agriculture Secretary Faces New Farm Price Woes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ezra Taft Benson will find a new crop of farm price problems facing him when he comes to Washington next week for a preinaugural view of his job as secretary of agriculture in the new Eisenhower administration.

Benson, a former agricultural leader and now an apostle of the Mormon church, has notified outgoing Secretary Charles F. Brannan that he expects to come to Washington next week for a briefing on his Cabinet duties.

The current farm picture is such that officials believe it will lead him to speedily set up new programs designed to broaden markets for agricultural products at home and abroad.

The secretary-designate will find that prices being received by farmers have dipped below the parity goal of federal farm programs for the first time since June, 1950.

Furthermore, Benson will find that the government's investment in farm products under price support programs is growing steadily. This investment has reached a record of about $4,300,000,000 before start of the war in Korea.

But demands growing out of defense spending permitted the department to unload all but about 1 billion dollars worth of this by July of this year. Since then, however, the investment has been going up again. It now is above the two billion dollar mark.

Benson will also find that the department is running into trouble making good on its commitment to support corn, wheat, and peanuts at 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products.

Corn, for exmple, has been selling for an average of $1.45 a bushel, or 20 cents below the support level.

Furthermore, the department is being called upon for the first time in nearly 18 months to buy butter to carry out a price guarantee to dairymen, and wool is moving into price support stocks in a large volume for the first time since 1950.

While there are no support programs for beef cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs, Benson will find much producer dissatisfaction with present prices. Beef cattle are down about 23 per cent from a year ago, sheep and lambs about 25 per cent and hogs about 15 per cent.

Benson will discover also that net farm income—income left after paying production costs—is going down and probably will continue to decline next year.

HIT BY BUS, DIES

DAYTON, O. (AP)—James T. Brayfield, 71, of Dayton, died Wednesday, 13 days after he was hit by a bus.

New War List Won't Have "Casualties"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Because people apparently think a casualty is a fatality, the Defense Department says it no longer is listing all men killed, wounded or missing in Korea as "casualties."

The Pentagon announcement yesterday said its weekly battle report will continue to show totals for dead, wounded and missing but will not total them up and list them as casualties.

Most reporters, however, continued to use the old form in tabulating latest Korean losses, announced yesterday.

Through last Friday, next of kin have been notified of 127,383 American casualties in Korea, an increase of 386 in a week. This total includes 20,004 killed, 94,367 wounded and 13,012 missing.

The Defense Department statement said the new policy is designed, not to minimize the number of casualties, but rather to "provide accurate and complete information."

Defense officials reportedly grew concerned about the word "casualty" during the recent presidential campaign, when Republicans began using the Korean War and the mounting casualty list as an issue.

Lloyds Of London Sure Coronation Is June 2

LONDON (AP)—Lloyds of London is twice as certain as it was a few months ago that the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II will take place as scheduled next June 2.

The famous insurance institution now is quoting a 7½ per cent rate on insurance against something happening to prevent the ceremony. Sometime ago, some business firms paid as high as 15 per cent.

The insurance was taken out because many millions of pounds already invested in work connected with the coronation would be lost if anything—such as war or a death in the royal family—should cause postponement.

Hoytville, O., Farmer Wins At Livestock Show

Edison E. Bartrum's journey paid off, for his pen of barrows was named grand champion Wednesday. He also had the reserve individual grand champion pig. His hogs averaged around 250 pounds each.

Bartum said he and his wife, Margaret, do all the work on their 160 acre grain and hog farm. They produced 190 spring pigs this year from 25 registered Chester Whites.

Red China Sends Russia Shipment Of Animals

LONDON (AP) — Peiping radio announced today that Communist China has sent a first shipment of rare wild animals, reptiles and birds to the Soviet Union and other Iron Curtain countries.

Yangtze alligators, giant salamanders and other species of wild life found only in China have arrived in Russia, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, the broadcast said.

Men's Clothes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many a stubborn male sighs for the return of the faithful vest.

But yearning isn't going to bring back the vest anymore than it will restore the dodo bird or revive vaudeville.

This is on the word of Spencer Witty, vice president of one of the nation's largest clothing manufacturing firms.

"The vest is finished," he said cheerfully. "It is very hard to get a vest today except contrasting or Tattersall vests.

"Suits now are priced for two pieces—the coat and pants. If the vest reappeared it would cause terrible repercussions. I doubt if the public would pay an extra 15 per cent just to get a vest."

Witty said the ordinary man was happy to get rid of vests and that only sentimentalists and "older, conservative business men" still want them. When I asked him for examples, he said:

"Well, John Foster Dulles does wear a vest and Dean Acheson doesn't."

Taking a squint at current fashion trends for the vestless male, Witty also predicted the decline and fall of the double-breasted suit.

"It's poison now," he said. Fat men still cling to the double-breasted suit in the fond belief that it helps hide their bay window and makes them appear slimmer.

"Pure illusion," said Witty ruthlessly. "They might as well face the facts — the double-breasted suit has had its day and is now on the way out."

Somehow I began to feel a bit sad. The vest gone, the double-breasted suit going — could anything else depart from a man's wardrobe and still leave him with anything except a loin cloth?

"Well, yes,' said Witty heartily. "The bold look and the natural look are now definitely out, as far as the better-dressed man is concerned."

The bold look? The natural look? I looked startled. I thought only women's clothes had a "look."

"Indeed, no," said Witty. "Men's suits had a bold look during the war days — wider shoulders, spread collar. Then right after the war we had the natural look . . . unpadded shoulders . . . loose fitting."

Well, it seems the bold look made a fellow look too wide for anybody to believe it was him, and the natural look made his shoulders look so narrow it depressed his wife.

"The present look is a compromise between the two," said Witty, "and it's a real benefit to the average man. It is less padded than the bold look and more flattering and athletic in appearance than the natural look.'

Another nice prospect is that there is no immediate danger of men's suits vying with peacocks or the rainbow.

"BILL OF RIGHTS DAY" SET

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Dec. 15 will be "Bill of Rights Day" in Ohio. In proclaiming the day, Gov. Frank J. Sheep-Goat Test

Phillip C. Jessup has resigned, and Owen Lattimore is back in the news with a perjury indictment to add to his complications as a figure in controversy.

A federal grand jury in New York has finished its term with a report blowing the lid off whatever was being brewed by homegrown reds in the United Nations. Their days are numbered.

The incoming secretary of state has made it clear he will tolerate no further sympathy for pro-Kremlin viewpoints in the State Deparment.

Things are looking up.

All legalism, hair-splitting and charges and countercharges aside, what happened in the Truman era was a woolly-minded attitude toward the Soviet Union.

It began in 1934 when Franklin D. Roosevelt made a personal agreement with Soviet Ambassador Maxim Litvinov for recognition of the Soviet Union. None of the provisos which Litvinov agreed to were honored by his government. But Roosevelt stuck to his belief that he could "housebreak" Russia. He was still trying to do it at Yalta.

That was the policy of his administration. It became Truman's policy by accident. Later, Truman's inability to cope with the infiltration of Communist sympathizers which it had caused became a prime source of trouble.

When the time came to separate the sheep from the goats, the goats kept turning up in the sheepfold — put ehere by men who had been schooled in the art of identifying goats as sheep and vice versa. They actually could not see why it was wrong.

They will never understand why this smelled of treason. Eventually they may be able to understand why it reeked of stupidity. But that will probably take a few more years of disillusionment about the Kremlin's intentions.

Open For Business

Completion of the Eisenhower cabinet and the beginning of appointments at the secondary level of administration mark a historic achievement in federal government.

For the first time, there is going to be an orderly transition from an outgoing to an incoming administration. Not only has the framework of the Eisenhower administration been constructed well in advance of inauguration day, but there has been an assumption of responsibility.

This has been made possible by the cooperation of the outgoing Truman administration. Even the atmosphere of bad feeling created by Mr. Truman's slam-bang attack on Dwight Eisenhower, it had been possible to demonstrate the possibilities of transition without interruption.

Much that is good about the conduct of government, as well as much that is bad, has been the result of tradition. There has been an awkward lack of good tradition about setting up new administrations.

The last time the government changed hands, in the spring of 1933, the job was done badly. The results were needlelessly disastrous to millions, who lost their savings.

Though the problem is different now — inflation, not deflation — there is a bright promise that it may never be troublesome again. It has been demonstrated that a new government can be "open for business" almost two months before the old government has closed out.

Who Guarded The Lettuce Farm?

The indictment of Joseph D. Nunan Jr. by a Brooklyn grand jury on charges of incometax dodging deepens an impression which did irreparable damage to the Democratic administration on election day.

Nunan formerly was No. 1 U.S. tax collector. That is a job whose holder should be above suspicion. He left the job under fire. Subsequently, investigators learned that the Bureau of Internal Revenue was shot through with corruption.

There was a cleanup—too late.

It had been Democratic party policy to let rabbits guard the lettuce farm. No one was particularly surprised, therefore, when it was revealed that the guards had been nibbling at the lettuce.

No other outcome of an official attitude which made it seem all right for men like Nunan to be clubby with racketeers and sympathetic toward chiselers was possible. That was the source of the "mess in Washington" — a mess in morals.

There have been other administrations which landed in truble. But there never has been an administration which made trouble inevitable by letting Nunans scamper at will through waving fields of that tempting green stuff.

The Brooklyn grand jury says Nunan owes $91,000 on his own income tax payments, which only suggests the real question: Where did he obtain the taxable income to account for an "oversight" of $91,000 on his income tax?

Parents can at least be thankful that their kids seldom turn out as the neighbors expect.

Road To Harmony

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Durkin Appointment Brings Cabinet Balance

Naturally the Democrats are gleeful over the first evidence of a rift between Sen. Taft and President - elect Eisenhower. This came with the Ohio senator's comment that the selection of Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor was "an incredible appointment."

But the effects of the controversy may well be to strengthen rather than weaken Gen. Eisenhower's efforts to promote harmony and unity in the country as a whole.

It may even start a chain of events that could lead to a better understanding between labor and management.

Persons who are not familiar with Sen. Taft's blunt way of expressing himself — and he never minces words — may read into his remarks a feeling of resentment, but actually the senator would be the first to say that it is the new president's right to pick his own Cabinet.

From a tactical standpoint, Sen. Taft was, in effect, making it clear that he isn't receding one bit in his position that the Taft-Hartley Act shall not be emasculated. Knowing that Mr. Durkin has favored its repeal, that he voted for Stevenson, and that he has been serving as the national president of an AFL union, it would be surprising if the Ohio senator embraced the new secretary of labor and uttered loud cheers over his appointment. In a way, Mr. Taft was declaring his independence. He is going to criticize when he thinks criticism is justified, and he is going to praise when he thinks praise is due.

No other man in America did more to insure the election of Gen. Eisenhower than did Sen. Taft. Had he sulked in the campaign, his followers would have sulked. The Republicans got their big electoral vote by swelling the total vote in Republican areas where organization work done by Taft followers counted heavily.

But the Ohio senator is too experienced in public affairs and too respectful of the prerogatives of a president to assume that he could direct and control the chief executive's Cabinet appointments. To assume this would be to corroborate what the Stevenson spokesmen predicted during the campaign — that Gen. Eisenhower would be the "captive" of Sen. Taft and his forces.

Anyone who stops a moment to analyze objectively the political situation in which Gen. Eisenhower finds himself today will have to agree that, with a Cabinet consisting largely of representatives of big business and big finance, and containing two lawyers with a New York City financial background, he could hardly add as a secretary of labor a man who was known to be hostile to union labor.

The selection of Mr. Durkin from the ranks of trade unionism was a simple matter of political common sense as well as balanced consideration of the different economic viewpoints that will be represented now in the new Cabinet.

It is logical that Sen. Taft should adopt a cautious position with respect to a Cabinet member who had been pledged to outright repeal of the Taft - Hartley Act.

It is significant that the new secretary of labor says he wants to bring both Sen. Taft and trade-union leaders of the CIO and AFL into a conference to try to work out amendments to the existing labor - management law.

This is always the right approach to the making of constructive labor legislation.

Back in 1926 all the Railroad Brotherhood unions and the executives of the railroads got together over a period of several weeks in conference with congressional leaders and worked out the Railway Labor Act of 1926. It was adopted by overwhelming vote of Republicans and Democrats. It was the first federal law that made collective bargaining compulsory on both management and labor.

History might repeat itself — it may be that labor and management can do the same thing now.

Plainly the presence of a trade-union man in the Cabinet makes possible an effective leadership by the new administration which could take the Taft - Hartley issue out of politics altogether, and that will be important in the congressional elections of 1954.

The many comments from CIO as well as AFL leaders who applaud the selection of Mr. Durkin indicate that Gen. Eisenhower has taken a long step forward to promote harmony on the labor-management front. To have appointed someone with a distinctly anti-labor background would have ushered in a climate in which strikes and work stoppages and grievous friction between labor and management might have prevailed.

Sen. Taft may really be more upset about the fact that some of his other recommendations for Cabinet appointments were not accepted, and it was a bit easier to find fault with the naming of a Democrat and a trade unionist for the Department of Labor.

In that area of public affairs, Mr. Taft has taken a firm position and the chances are that he need not worry too much about Mr. Durkin's possible influence in Congress because, when it comes to amending the Taft - Hartley Act, a majority of both houses will stand solidly against a one-sided law.

There is a chance now for negotiating amendments and making a law satisfactory to both sides if the trade unions really want that kind of setup, and this remains to be seen. Mr. Durkin is the man who is really on the spot.

Who Says So and Why?

By TRUMAN TWILL

It said in the sheet on top of the pile of papers being cleared off the desk that International Farm Youth Exchange delegates in Europe last summer became acquainted with people, not with nationalities, not with races.

And that they learned there are no substantial differences between people, who all think and act about the same way. The trouble in this world does not come from the bottom but from the top.

It comes from a very few people who want to exploit a great many people for narrow purposes. It is like a contest between cowardly shepherds whose sheep have no combative instinct but can be made to mill about and do a great deal of damage.

The shepherds, of course, keep plenty of sheep between themselves, to make sure they don't have to take direct action or a poke in the nose.

It is foolish to blame the stirrer-uppers of trouble, because they are always present, like insurance salesmen and undertakers. They go with the show. The trick is to keep them out of the act.

There will be no improvement until trouble - makers are curbed.

It will never be done until most human beings cease to be gullible. As long as the majority will believe what they are told without asking questions or demanding proof, it will be possible for a few to misuse the many. The rabble will be rousable.

No dictatorship could last 24 hours without gullibility. People must believe what they are told, without asking questions, or no dictator could survive the first burst of coarse laughter which would greet his lies.

Skepticism is the key to human freedom. There must be more of the raised eyebrows which toppled the throned heads of the absolute monarchs, which are pestering the stuffed shirts trying to defend the bad as well as the good in the industrial era — and which give fits to would-be authoritarians.

The young men and women who went to Europe last summer to get acquainted with people of other nationalities were kept busy clearing up misinformation about the United States they say. Yet they were visiting in countries presumably friendly to the United States.

In authoritarian countries, misinformation is not accidental but intentional. It has been spooned out to the gullible like dope. If they ever refused to swallow it, the authoritarian at the head of the government would be washed up. He knows that. Otherwise, there would be no iron curtains.

The whole thing depends on the probability that human beings will believe what they are told, without using their own judgment or the skepticism which is standard equipment in every human brain.

American boys and girls who find out for themselves that human beings are all the same when you get to know them are a little harder to fool. As someone has said a few million times: The truth will make men free; accept no substitutes.

There was nothing else worth saving in the pile of papers being cleared off the desk. The rest was nothing but opinion and special pleading.

"Hey, Doesn't That Signal Ever Change?"

An Unwanted Diplomat

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Dr. Emil Weil is the Hungarian minister to the United States. He lives in our country with extra territorial privileges. He is entitled to travel anywhere he chooses; he can observe conditions and report back to his government in a secret diplomatic pouch. He is not subject to the restrictions of our law.

Sokolsky

These are the rights of every diplomat in all countries.

However, before any envoy comes to the United States, his government must have asked the State Department whether he is acceptable to our country; the State Department must have approved Weil or he would not have come.

This Dr. Emil Weil was in charge of the X-ray department of a hospital maintained in Budapest by a large industrial firm. Before World War II he was sentenced to seven years imprisonment for underground Communist activities.

AFTER THE SIEGE of Budapest and the Russian occupation he was entrusted by the Russians with a Communist propaganda campaign among the doctors and the medical staff of hospitals in Hungary.

He became head of the "medical council,' an organization of almost unlimited power, and used this organization to spread Marxism and a pro-Russian attitude among the Hungarian doctors. Intimidation and threats were his chief weapons.

He prevented physicians of whom he disapproved from being given higher positions in hospitals or the government service, summoning the political police to arrest or intern the doctor.

He was secretary-general of the Hungarian Sanitary Workers Trade Union. He created such an atmosphere of terror that the intimidated doctors were compelled to give in to him unless they wanted to lose their jobs.

ALL NON-COMMUNIST experts were dismissed from the Ministry of Public Welfare—an organization under complete Communist control— and their places were filled with inexperienced Communists recommended by Weil.

There were no drugs, bandages or instruments in Hungary, because the Russians seized all that was left behind by the Germans. When a donation of drugs and medical instruments finally arrived from America, the Ministry of Public Welfare was induced by Weil to demand participation in their distribution, diverting the gift to Communist propaganda.

Weil has been accused of getting the Minister of Public Welfare, Mrs. Anna Ratko, who used to be a textile worker, and who was appointed a cabinet minister with his assistance, to say: "The Hungarian doctors will have to detach themselves from Western medical science which is falsified and does not serve the public interest, but only the enemies of the people."

In the meanwhile hundreds of Hungarians were dying for the lack of penicillin, streptomycin, aureomycin, etc., and for the lack of an iron lung, which were available only in the West.

THE WESTERN charitable organizations, however, seeing that their help was misused for Communist propaganda, discontinued their aid. Dr. Weil's mission was fulfilled by April 1948, when all important medical positions were finally in the hands of the Communists.

Various accusations have been made against Dr. Weil in relation to Cardinal Mindszenty, who had been drugged or medically "treated' in order to obtain a confession. There has been no statement in denial of the participation of the Hungarian minister to the United States in this outrage. However, the record has been established that he was the one who appointed the "experts" who carried out the criminal treatment, which was an operation on the Cardinal's brain.

AN HUNGARIAN journalist who since then escaped to the West declared in a newspaper article shortly after his escape that it was Dr. Weil who handled the electric device used in the course of this brain operation performed on the victims of the various political trials, among them Cardinal Mindszenty. There has been no confirmation or denial of this report.

It is impossible to ignore the repetition of Dr. Emil Weil's name in connection with the Mindszenty outrage, and it is up to him to prove them untrue. He as awarded the "Kossuth Prize," which is the highest award of the Communist regime.

Why Dr. Emil Weil, who has never been in the diplomatic service, should have been appointed minister to the United States, is not clear; yet, he has been here about two years.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Iritis Demands Prompt Care

Iritis is a serious eye disease. Its principal symptoms consist of pain, watering of the eyes, excessive sensitivity to bright light, and if long continued, interference with vision. The pain is likely to be severe and worse at night. Touching or pressing the eyeball usually is excruciatingly painful. When iritis begins suddenly the symptoms are likely to be worse than in chronic variety, but recovery usually comes more rapidly—perhaps in a few weeks. When proper treatment is begun early the iritis often clears up completely, but complications and the possibility of chronic inflammation are dangerous possibilities.

Dr. Jordan

Iritis is sometimes associated with rheumatism, diabetes, tuberculosis, syphilis, or injury. It is most important that the cause of the iritis be discovered whenever possible.

The disease or condition producing the inflammation of the iris must be treated as well as the eye itself. The search for infection elsewhere in the body must be carried out painstakingly and thoroughly. But sometimes no cause whatever can be found.

The eye itself requires highly skilled treatment, including the use of drugs, heat applied locally, rest and protection from light. Sometimes a method called foreign protein therapy has been found helpful in iritis.

This consists in injecting some protein substance (boiled milk is an example) which produces a reaction of the body, usually with fever. This seems to stimulate resistance and often has a favorable effect on the iritis.

As in most other inflammatory diseases of the eye (but not such things as cataracts, simple glaucoma, and the like), ACTH or cortisone are often extremely useful.

When anything goes wrong with the eyes, diagnosis and treatment should not be delayed too long, as the risk of permanent damage to these vital organs is great.

It is not possible for a patient to tell what kind of eye trouble he has from the symptoms alone and therefore nothing should stand in they way of seeking expert advice promptly. In iritis, as in other eye diseases, the vision itself may be at stake.

Real Efficiency

Gen. Matthew Ridgway's inspection of recent North Atlantic Treaty Organization maneuvers in western Europe turned up some good accounts on the use of American military equipment by foreign troops.

One of the best reports came from observation of a parachute drop on a rainy afternoon by a battalion of French paratroopers with full equipment.

Within 15 minutes from the time the first of the 480 men had hit the ground they had all cleared the drop zone and were in action—including one jeep that blew a tire which had to be repaired.

Once Over

Special Delivery

Mr. Arthur Summerfield
Next Postmaster General of the U.S.A.

Dear Sir: Congratulations on your appointment as postmaster general, a job not always considered of top importance, but which plays a big part in the lives of the American people, millions of whom have been getting the thumb-in-eye treatment from that Department.

Americans are a race of letter writers. They like to write and get answers. To the sick and lonely, good postal service can mean much.

The love letters should get through while the lovers are still young. This "please remit" note has its place in our economic life. "Wish you were here" message has made many a heart throb faster.

Everybody knows the joy that comes to a mother in a letter from her boy in Korea. You are beginning in the Department that has minimized all these things and almost stamps "Unimportant. Don't rush" on the U.S. mail.

The Post Office Department at Washington has cut down the visit of the letter carrier, reduced mail-bag collections, closed post office windows and flooded the post offices of the country with regulations blitzing the traditional service.

A top example is the regulation in which special delivery, now costing twice what it used to cost, requires no signature from the recipient. This wipes out every chance of tracing a letter delivered to the wrong person, mishandled, delayed or completely lost.

All through the history of our mail service this signature was regarded as essential. It was abolished a few years ago on the phony excuse of saving time—the thirty seconds necessary to write a signature!

Today, it is not unusual for a special-delivery letter to reach its destination a day later than one mailed at the same time with a 3-cent stamp. To fix responsibility for a lost one has become almost impossible.

Businessmen are hampered by cuts in collections and deliveries. Cupid finds it faster to use smoke signals.

The time-honored slogan "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds" has become a subject of musical comedy treatment with Martin and Lewis in the leading roles. The boys don't mind the gloom of night; it's the gloom of bureaucracy that slows them up.

You're a businessman, Arthur. Sloppiness, inefficiency and indifference don't go with you. You didn't get to the top in the auto trade by closing windows, suspending services and holding a receipt for deliveries unimportant.

The people can't wait for you to get in there and restore mail service. They want it. Their battle cry is, "We will fight it out on that line if it takes all Summerfield." A Cabinet appointee has such a swell chance to be a hero. Carry the mails, bub!

Anxiously yours,
Elmer.

P.S.—How about sticking to a few simple 3-cent stamps for a change instead of changing the size, color and design daily? Let's have a spell without a stamp in honor of the bottler of the first dill pickle, the discovery of the corn plaster or the birth of the first hen to lay a double-yolk egg.

Clifford H. Hood, new head of U. S. Steel, is an Illinois farm boy who made good in the city. . . . Came from Monmouth, a little town not far from Biggville, Nemo, Alexis and Swan Creek. . .

Frank Loesser's music makes "Hans Christian Andersen" memorable. . . . He's easily up there with Irving Berlin as a master of catchy numbers. . . . But to our mind Danny Kaye is not so hot as the fairy-tale maker. . . . Leaves us with a feeling his weaving of fairy tales was done in Lindy's. . .

George S. Kaufman says he is saving up all the little wads of cotton that pillmakers put in the tops of bottles, and should soon have enough to make a bed quilt. . .

President Truman says he may go back to Missouri and raise chickens. . . . Up to now he has just had the Republicans laying for him. . . . Remarkable thing about the Eisenhower team is that you can look the whole lineup over and not want anybody taken out for running the wrong way with the ball.

Canada Police Probe Faith Cure Death

BARRIE, Ont. (AP) — Ontario's chief coroner launched an investigation today into the death of 19-year-old Mary Taylor after her mother said the girl tried a faith cure for the diabetes she had suffered since the age of 3.

The mother, Mrs. David Taylor, said Mary heard a sermon Sunday by a traveling preacher, D. W. Holmes of the Voice Healing Association, and stopped the insulin injections she had taken for 15 years. She became ill, grew steadily worse and died yesterday.

Relatives of the girl said Holmes had left continuance of the insulin treatments to the family's judgment, but the family had heard that other diabetic sufferers had been cured by faith.

"I had faith she was going to get cured," the mother told a newsman last night. "I wish I had called the doctor."

Ground To Be Broken For One Of A-Plants

GALLIPOLIS, O. (AP) — Ground will be broken today in a little Ohio River settlement near here—site of an electrical generating plant that will help turn the wheels at the Pike County atomic energy project.

Exact location of the huge station is at Kyger Creek, a hamlet just south of nearby Cheshire. Generators there and similar ones at a sister plant in Madison, Ind., will comprise one of the greatest steam-electric generating projects in the world.

Actual construction work has already begun on the 145 million dollar Kygr Creek plant.

Ground - breaking ceremonies were set for 11 a. m.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Kenneth Dunbar, manager of the gaseous diffusion plant near Waverly, and Philip Sporn, president of the Ohio Valley Electric Co., which is building the gigantic electricity producer, were scheduled to take part.

When completed by June 1956, the stations will produce 15 billion kilowatt hours annually. This is equal to two-thirds of the amount of electricity presently consumed by Ohio industries and in Buckeye homes.

The tremendous amount of power will be utilized by the AEC in its gaseous diffusion plant in Pike County. It will be carried over 330,000 volt transmission lines, equal to the highest voltage anywhere in the nation. TTwo double circuits will run from the power station to Pike County.

The southern half of the Kyger Creek area will be occupied by the plant itself. The remainder will be used for coal storage.

Prices Of Aluminum Utensils To Be Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is getting ready to boost ceiling prices on aluminum pots and pans.

An Office of Price Stabilization official said yesterday an order will be issued before the end of the week granting manufacturers a 7 per cent increase in ceilings for pots and pans made of sheet aluminum and 8.5 per cent for utensils made of cast aluminum.

The official said wholesalers and retailers will be permitted to hike pass the increases on to consumers.

PORTSMOUTH CLEARED

PORTSMOUTH, O. (AP) — This city received a clean bill of health Wednesday from the American Social Hygiene Association in regard to commercial prostitution. Undercover agents of the association, after spending a week in Portsmouth, said they found no commercial prostitution. But they warned an influx of vice activities could be expected with the construction of the Pike County atom plant.

FIGHTING MEN of the 40th Infantry division in Korea wrote home recently to their families and asked for some much needed winter clothing. These warm winter garments were not for the GIs themselves, but were donated to grateful South Korean men, women and children. At least one Korean town can look forward to a more comfortable winter.

Pvt. Francis Cronin, Newton Highlands, Mass., helps distribute clothing to Korean children.

Ohio Strip Mine Laws Discussed

Tighter Statutes Sought By Lausche

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Representatives from Pennsylvania and West Virginia met today with Gov. Frank J. Lausche and state officials to study stricter regulation of coal strip mining in Ohio.

The governor asked J. R. Blackburn of the West Virginia Department of Mines, and Richard Mays, Pennsylvania secretary of mines, for suggestions on tightening Ohio statutes.

Lausche expressed dissatisfaction with Ohio laws and said they should be strengthened.

"The final cut, which under existing state law is allowed to remain," the governor said, "will have to be collapsed to bring its topography into some reasonable relationship with adjacent land.

"The final cut, at present, is a sheer straight wall, up and down, of 75 to 100 feet.

"The present $190 expenditure required for reclamation is inadequate.

"Claims have been made that under the present law, when it appears nothing will grow upon land stripped, that the operators need expend no money for restoration.

"If that is the fact, then the law must be amended to require use of the $190 bond money for other reclamation purposes."

Strip mine operators, who mine coal from the surface, must post $190 bond for each acre stripped to guarantee grading of spoil banks and planting of trees, shrubs and grass to prevent erosion.

The governor left later by plane for ground - breaking ceremonies at a power plant near Gallipolis that will serve the new atomic energy plant in Pike County.

ure to do so would be a disastrous coal strike which would create a "crisis" for Eisenhower.

Putnam, announcing the President's decision to newsmen, said "This is not the decision I would have made. It is not the decision I would have recommended."

It means higher price ceilings for many varieties of soft coal, but probably not for all. Most soft coal has been selling well under existing ceiling prices, and the higher wage costs can be absorbed for some varieties within present ceilings.

Truman estimated the extra cost of producing coal now will be "perhaps 5 or 6 cents a ton."

But the decision indicates that a similar contract signed by Lewis and the hard coal industry, now pending before the WSB, will also be approved. This would lead to a price increase of between 80 cents and $1 per ton on hard coal, the type used by home owners for heating.

The three public members said they would not resign and bring "the immediate collapse of the wage stabilization program."

The President's letter to Putnam said:

"The issues in the coal case certainly affect stabilization, but they go far beyond stabilization considerations."

He said a coal strike "would not immediately cause a national emergency in which the government would be authorized to act." The reason, Truman said, was that "unusually large stocks of coal" are now above ground. But he added:

"Such an emergency would arise just about the time my successor took office. I am not willing to take an action that will create such a crisis for my successor."

It has been well known that Putnam, Fowler and the wage board on the one hand and Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman and Federal Mediation Chief David L. Cole on the other have been in disagreement on the coal case for a month.

Steelman and Cole argued that a coal strike would be much more harmful to the stabilization and defense programs than granting the miners the 40 cents denied them by the WSB—"milk money for miners' babies," Lewis called it.

In his letter, Truman said:

"The overriding consideration to my mind is not the danger that there would otherwise be a work stoppage, but rather that the situation it would cause would be one the government is not equipped to meet and resolve promptly."

This statement appeared to indicate the president believed the Taft-Hartley Act's emergency strike provisions would not cope with the threatened strike. If a coal strike developed, the government could not seek an 80-day no-strike court order until an "emergency" existed. Stockpiles, Truman said, would delay that moment until the new Republican administration took over.

lems and still more meetings on Korea—the Assembly would have to discuss even a rejection of the plan—the U. N. Steering Committee began working on a new schedule for the Assembly.

It was expected to provide a Christmas recess and a resumption of work sometime in February, well after the inauguration of President-elect Eisenhower. The Assembly session originally was scheduled to end Dec. 20.

The Tunisian question—second item on the Political Committee's agenda—is the first of two moves aimed at French colonial rule by the Asian-Arab bloc on the committee. The second will be a drive supporting independence for Morocco.

Both problems were forced on the agenda over die-hard French opposition and both promise to drag out in bitter wrangling. France has maintained angrily that her administration of both North African protectorates is her own internal business and no concern of the U. N.

The Arab-Asian bloc resolution on Tunisia contends France is ignoring human and political rights in that country. It demands that France restore civil liberties and resume negotiations with Tunisian nationalists under a three-member U. N. good offices committee.

The debates on Tunisia and Morocco may strain French-American relations. The United States voted to put both questions up for debate but thus far has given no indication of what its final attitude would be. Britain has said it would support France.

Although the Assembly has been in session eight weeks, only the Korean question has been brought to a temporary close by yesterday's 54-5 vote approving the Indian plan for handling POWs. The opposition came from the five Soviet bloc nations. Nationalist China abstained.

Council Fails To OK Policeman

Receipts Show Drop; Lehman Hardware Sold

COLUMBIANA—No action was taken by village council Tuesday evening on a proposal for the addition of a fourth patrolman to the police force after a report from the finance committee showed that there has been a decrease in receipts of the police department this year as compared with 1951.

The committee, Charles Fisher, Walter Miller and Arthur Myers, submitted a detailed report of receipts and expenditures for both years, which showed that in 1951 the police department came within $583.35 of paying its own way, but that for the present year figures for the first nine months and estimates for the remaining three months show that it will fall short $3,018.97.

Chief R. G. Millen said the Columbiana police department comes nearer paying its own way than that of any municipality within a radius of many miles. The report showed receipts for 1951 of $13,675.99; 1952 receipts, $11,661.67; 1951 expenses, $14,259.34; 1952 expense, $14,680.64; 1951 parking meter fines, $754; 1952, $392. 1951 village fines, $4,884.80; 1952, $3,539.13; 1951 village share of state fines, $1,607.50; 1952, $1,411.33; totals fines 1951, $7,246.30; 952, $5,342.46; 1952 parking meter receipts, $6,429.69; 1952, $6,319.21; 1951 police salaries, $9,325.17; 1952, $10,238.58.

The decline in parking meter receipts is attributed partly to the fact that Route 46 was closed most of the year while it was being rebuilt, widened and relocated in places.

Council voted a raise in wages of $20 a month to $260 a month for Harry Wilson, cemetery sexton. Clifford Orr, a member of the cemetery board, was present and urged the pay increase because the sexton often works a 50 to 60-hour week and many Sundays. Wilson took the job last spring. Council passed on first reading the pay increase ordinance, which will become effective in January.

Solicitor John L. Hutson was instructed to advertise for bids on construction of a building in Firestone Park for rest rooms, and dressing room, lockers and showers for athletes, in accordance with the plans and specification submitted by the park board. Bids will be opened Saturday, Jan. 17, for both the entire job and the job without the wiring and heating, which may be done by the municipality. The building will be situated at the east end of the park stadium.

JOHN L. HOEY and Harold W. Armstrong of Lisbon have bought the Lehman Hardware store at S. Main and E. Friend Sts., and will open it under their management next Tuesday.

Mr. Hoey was formerly in the milling business in Lisbon and more recently a builder, and Mr. Armstrong has been with the Bye & Bye Hardware Co. in Lisbon. They will move here with their families as soon as they can arrange living quarters.

The store is one of the oldest business establishments in town, having been founded by the late Adin Greenamyer in the 1870s. The late Homer Lehman, who died recently, had been a partner of Mr, Greenamyer for some time when Lynus Shaffer bought the Greenamyer interest in 1909, and the firm became Lehman & Shaffer. Mr. Lehman retained his interest in the store while in the tractor business in Bucyrus several years, but in 1922 returned and bought the interest of Mr. Shaffer who moved to Sharon. Mr. Lehman had continued the business until his recent death, since which his children, Maurice and Richard Lehman and Mrs. Eleanor Bockleman of Columbus, incorporated it.

Swedish Parents Urged To Restrict Children

FLEN, Sweden (AP)—A local child care committee urged Swedish parents today to keep a sharper eye on their children after dark, asserting that juvenile sex relations are increasing among the Swedes.

As an example, the committee told of an unmarried, 13-year-old girl who gave birth to a seven-pound baby on Dec. 1 here in Flen, 50 miles southwest of Stockholm. The father is 14 years old.

"several cases of sex relations involving children 12 to 15 years old have been reported lately to the committee," Chairman Martin Langstrom said.

ROKs Smash 3 Red Attacks On Sniper Ridge

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean troops smashed three Chinese assaults on Sniper Ridge in predawn darkness today—the bitterness of the hand-to-hand combat matching that of the subzero cold.

Two of the attacks were described as suicidal. The Reds, thickly bundled in their quilted uniforms, charged up the icy slopes behind an artillery and mortar barrage of more than 5,000 shells.

But an Eighth Army officer said the South Koreans stood firm. By midday the Chinese had withdrawn Although their assaults were made in groups of 40 and 50 men, the bodies of 92 Reds were counted on the icy, forbidding slopes of Pinpoint Hill.

The Eighth Army said action elsewhere along the 155-mile battlefront was minor.

American F86 jets were credited with another MIG—this one going to Capt. Robinson Risner of Oklahoma City. It boosted his score to six MIGs destroyed, one probable and one damaged.

John L. Lewis Has Done Well Under Truman Administration

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis is hardly the man to go scrampering out of the country when his miner's wages are at stake and he might have to call a strike if they didn't get what they wanted.

Yet, there he was off in South America when the announcement came last night that President Truman had overruled his top stabilization officials to give Lewis' coal miners the $1.90 a day pay raise they wanted.

Roger Putnam, the economic stabilizer, broke the news to reporters at 6 p.m. Under questioning, Putnam said the President had reached his decision just a week ago.

Since that would have been a couple of days before Lewis took off southward, it's possible he knew what the President's decision was. How he knew it, if he knew it, was not disclosed. Maybe a birdie told him.

But the thundering Lewis, who supported the Democrats in the presidential election, has never been very uncomfortable under government wage controls. In fact, he's made out dandy.

On Jan. 18, 1951, Lewis and the coal mine owners agreed on a wage increase of $1.60 a day for the miners. Eight days later the government froze all wages and prices.

But the government sent Lewis on his way with official blessing, deciding he could keep his raise all right since he had obtained it before the freeze went in. But it had a say on all raises agreed upon after the freeze date.

This fall Lewis reached another agreement with the mine owners, giving his miners a boost of $1.90. But this time Lewis couldn't get it, or so it was thought, unless the Wage Stabilization Board approved.

Meanwhile, on Oct. 13 Lewis and his miners decided to support the Democrats in the presidential campaign of Gov. Stevenson although Lewis' relations with Truman until then had been less than cozy.

A few days later the Wage Stabilization Board made up its mind that the miners, under the wage control program, were entitled to no more than $1.50 a day.

For a week the coal miners went on strike. This was late October. Winter was approaching. So was the election. Truman called Lewis and Harry M. Moses, representing the mine owners, to the White House where he promised them fair treatment. Lewis called off the strike.

Lewis and Moses appealed to Putnam to overrule the wage board. Putnam wouldn't. Neither would Henry M. Fowler, the mobilization boss. So Truman stepped in and gave Lewis what he wanted.

The $1.90 a day this time, plus the $1.60 in January, 1951, gives Lewis' miners a total daily increase of $3.50 a day in less than two years under wage stabilization.

The title "Prince of Wales," often held by the British crown prince is not inherited, but conferred upon each holder individually.

Ada, O., Banker Arrested In Fund Shortage

ADA, O. (AP) — The 61-year-old president of an Ada bank was arrested at his home Wednesday, charged with embezzling $17,500 of the bank's funds.

Anson Gear, president of the First National Bank, was arrested by a U. S. marshal on charges he made false entries in the bank's books to cover up the shortage.

U. S. Attorney Gerald P. Openlander said Gear would be arraigned in the U. S. District Court in Toledo.

Ironically, the shortage might not have been discovered for some time if a daring daylight robbery of $7,037 Oct. 22 had not required a special audit. Gear was held at gun point in the bank at the time of the robbery.

Gear resigned suddenly Nov. 10. Bank officials declined to discuss the resignation.

Paul J. Shine, agent in charge of the Cleveland district office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said Gear began making entries to conceal the alleged embezzlement as early as 1944. He said Gear made restitution of $11,500. He did not indicate how Gear used the money. Bank officials refused comment. Shine said there was no evidence linking the robbery with the embezzlement.

A native of Canton, Gear started with the First National as cashier in 1941 and was promoted to president in January of this year.

Cook Food In Holiday Flavor

With your Holiday turkey, Rosamond Chapin, a truly wonderful artist with food, suggests French-cut green beans. But hers are different. I've relished them at the New Boston Inn, at New Boston, Mass., in Berkshire County, which she and her husband own. I'll let this hospitable and amazing hostess give her own directions.

Slivered or French-Cut Beans

"Buy only young and tender beans and slice these lengthwise as finely as you can," she says. "For gala occasions I always do this by hand because I can do it finer than any gadget ever made for this purpose. I cook my slivered beans as quickly as possible in a large saucepan full of boiling water to which I add a teaspoonful of baking soda before I put in my beans.

"When beans are tender, in about 10 minutes or less if you have slivered them finely enough, I drain them through a colander while running hot water from the faucet over them to remove all traces of the soda. I next melt plenty of butter in a wide saucepan. Into this I put my beans, still warm but carefully drained after their bath.

"I season these with salt, white pepper and a dash of garlic salt while I shake the pan to distribute the seasoning as well as keep my beans from scorching. Be sure to put them into a warm dish to serve, and season them at the last possible moment. No beans ever tasted better than these.

"Glazed Yams: Parboil yams in their skins until nearly cooked, soft but not mushy. Peel and cut into halves. Place halves in single layer in much-buttered shallow pan, sprinkle with sugar and a dash of salt. Moisten slightly with a little orange juice. Place in 350 degree F. oven (moderate) and turn every five minutes or so, adding sugar or juice each time as necessary until yams are evenly glazed and slightly browned."

Try Meat Alternates For Protein Diet

When a meatless dish contains other good protein, it is really a meat alternate rather than a meat substitute. For both economy and variety these meat alternates make excellent main-course dishes.

Edith Barber, "First Lady" among food authorities, has a practical new cook book, concise, easy to follow and actually a basic course in how to cook. It's called "The Short-Cut Cook Book" and contains these good meat alternate recipes:

Mushroom Rabbit

½ can condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup milk
1 cup shredded sharp American cheese
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 egg, well beaten

Combine ingredients. Stir over low heat until cheese is melted and rabbit is thickened. Serve on toast or crackers. Note: Celery or tomato soup may replace the mushroom soup. Four servings.

Fried Beans, Mexican Style

¼ cup water
1 No. 2½ can kidney beans
2 tablespoons bacon drippings or salad oil
Chili powder

Combine water and beans. Cover and cook over low heat until very soft. Beat to a paste. Saute onion lightly in fat, and add the beans. Spread in skillet and shake over heat until thoroughly heated and almost dry. Add chili powder to taste. Four to 5 servings.

Hopping John

1 ham hock end
1 cup black-eyed peas
1 onion
Pepper
1 cup rice

Cover ham hock with water, bring to a boil. Cover and let simmer until tender, about 1½ hours. Set aside to cool. When cold, remove layer of fat and reserve for drippings. Add peas, onion and pepper. Cover and let simmer over low heat about one hour until peas are tender.

Add rice on top of other ingredients. Cover and cook without stirring about 30 minutes until rice is tender. Eight to 10 servings.

Note: Any type of soaked dry beans may replace the black-eyed peas.

Here's Variation Of Cranberry Theme

For the Holiday dinners and for many other meals, you may want these variations on the cranberry theme.

Cranberry Orange Celery Mold

1 quart cranberries
2¼ cups water
2 tablespoons plain gelatin
½ cup water
1¼ cups sugar
Grated peel of one orange
Grated peel and juice of one lemon
2 oranges, peeled and cut into chunks
½ cup diced celery

Wash cranberries, cook in 2¼ cups water until soft; strain. Soften gelatin in ½ cup water. Thoroughly mix sugar and softened gelatin with strained cranberries. Add orange peel, lemon peel and lemon juice. Cool until gelatin mixture is almost set. Fold in orange chunks and celery. Turn into 1-quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold and serve as a salad with greens or as a meat accompaniment.

Cranberry Relish

2 cups cranberries
1 cup sugar
½ cup water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup sliced or chopped celery.

Combine cranberries, sugar and water in saucepan and cook until cranberries are soft. Remove from heat; cool slightly, then add lemon juice and celery. Chill well before serving. Makes about 2 cups.

If fresh cranberries are not available use one 16-ounce can of whole cranberry sauce. Stir in lemon juice and celery and chill for at least 30 minutes before serving.

Cranberry Apricot Lemon Relish

4 cups fresh cranberries
2 cups dried apricots
1 lemon
2 cups sugar

Force cranberries, apricots and lemon through food chopper. Add sugar and mix well. Chill thoroughly before serving.

SALMON BISQUE

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespons finely diced celery
2 tablespoons grated carrot
3 tablespoons flour
4 cups milk
1 cup flaked canned salmon
1 small white onion
1 bay leaf
salt and pepper
1 teaspoon minced parsley (if desired)

Melt butter in saucepan. Add celery and carrots and cook over low heat about 3 minutes; stir in flour. Add milk; cook and stir until smooth and slightly thickened. Add salmon, onion (sliced thin and separated into rings), bay leaf, salt and pepper to taste. Simmer 15 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Sprinkle with parsley if used. Makes 6 servings.

Cookies For The Holidays

For your Christmas baking you'll want an all-purpose sugar cookie that may be cut in holiday shapes. Here's a brand-new recipe with a lemon flavor. It makes use of canned lemon juice now widely available and ever so handy.

If you want to try your hand at yeast-baking this holiday time, make some attractive Christmas Tree Buns. Small fry will love them!

LEMON CHRISTMAS COOKIES

3 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup pure unsweetened canned lemon juice. (Use as is from can after shaking).

Sift flour, baking powder, and salt. Cream shortening and 1 cup of sugar. Beat in egg. Add flour mixture alternately with lemon juice to creamed mixture. Chill thoroughly.

Roll out a small amount of the dough at a time ⅛-inch thick on prepared pastry cloth or lightly floured board. Cut with Christmas tree cutters in desired shapes. Sprinkle sugar on cookies, if desired, or use colored sugar or cake decorettes. Bake in hot (400F.) oven about 8 minutes.

CHRISTMAS TREE BUNS

Two-thirds cup milk
½ cup sugar
1¼ teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons shortening (soft or melted)
Two-thirds cup water
3 tablespoons sugar
3 packages or cakes yeast (active dry or compressed)
3 eggs (beaten)
1 cup chopped candied fruits
6 cups sifted flour.

Scald the milk and stir in the ½ cup sugar, salt and shortening. Set aside to cool to lukewarm. Measure water (warm for active dry yeast, but just lukewarm for compressed yeast) and 3 tablespoons sugar into mixing bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Combine the milk and the yeast mixture. Add eggs. Mix candied fruits with half the flour. Add and stir into yeast mixture. Stir in remaining flour, or enough to make a dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 8 to 10 minutes or until surface is smooth and satiny, and dough feels springy and elastic and does not stick to the board. Put dough into greased bowl and brush top lightly with shortening.

Cover with cloth let rise in warm place (free from draft) until doubled in bulk — about 1½ hours. Punch down dough, pull sides into center, turn out on board. Shape into even ropes ½ inch thick and about 20 inches long. Shape each rope into a tree on greased cookie sheets. Start with a 3-inch base and wind rope back and forth getting smaller and smaller until the 20-inch rope is used and the tree is formed.

Attach a piece of dough to form trunk. Cover with a cloth and let rise in a warm place (free from draft) until doubled in bulk. Bake in hot (425F.) oven about 20 minutes or until brown. Frost with confectioners' sugar frosting pressed through a pastry tube.

CONFECTIONERS' SUGAR FROSTING

Mix ½ cup sifted confectoners' sugar with ½ teaspoon vanilla and enough beaten egg white to make spreading consistency.

RICH ALMOND WAFERS

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon cream
1 cup ground unbanched almonds
¼ teaspoon almond flavoring.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg and cream. Stir in flour mixture. Stir in almonds and flavoring. Drop in very small mounds onto ungreased cookie sheets; flatten slightly. Bake in moderate (375F.) oven about 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen small wafers.

OUR OWN MEATS HOME DRESSED

The steers we are processing at this time are the ones we had shipped from Omaha last June. Since that time they have been dry fed all they could eat. To our surprise, all we have dressed still have their calf teeth. That means you get so much more meat for the bones are so small ;also the meat is so tender and has a flavor you do not get in ordinary meat. If you want meat for a good dinner, or to fill your freezer, we can furnish you with this extra fine beef.

Let's Make Cookie Christmas Trees

Cookie Christmas Trees, suitable for table centerpieces or favors may be made from star-shaped cookies of graduated sizes which are stacked on a vertical spindle fitted into a base, or skewer stuck in half of apple or ball of dough. The largest cookie star is placed on the botton of the stack, then one or two small round cookies, then the next cookie star and so on until nine cookie stars have been used. The smallest star is the top of the tree.

Cookie Recipe

½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup bran cereal
3 cupts sifted flour
3½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
One-third cup orange juice
2 teaspoon grated orange rind
Green colored sugar
Silver candies
Almond halves
Candied cherries

Blend butter or margarine and sugar thoroughly. Add egg and beat well. Add ready-to-eat bran. Sift dry ingredients and add to first mixture alternately with orange juice. Stir in orange rind. Chill.

Roll portions of dough on well-greased baking sheet to ¼-inch thickness. Place patterns on dou thickness. Place patterns o n dough and cut out stars. Brush with egg whites. Cut out sixteen small round cookies. Decorate stars with almonds, candied cherries or silver candies. Sprinkle with green sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350 F. to 375 F.) about 10 minutes, or until done. While cookie is hot, cut small hole in center to fit over spindle.

Makes 9 stars, grandated sizes and 16 round cookies (1½-inch diameter).

Equipment for making cookie Christmas tree:

1 wooden spindle about 9½-inches long, ½-inch diameter, sharpened to a point at one end
1 round wooden base about 8-inch diameter, ½-inch hole in center into which spindle may be fitted
1 12-inch circle of colored paper to put over base
9 cardboard patterns of six point stars, rangin in size from 1-inch to 2-inch diameter, with an approximate difference of one inch between sizes
1 small round cookie cutter, about 1½-inch diameter.

Fit spindle into base, pointed end up. Pile cookie stars on standard as indicated above. Small trees may be made by using an assortment of smaller stars.

Here's a good menu for school children's lunch: Vegetable - and-beef soup with crackers or rolls and butter; applesauce with gingerbread; milk.

Wheat Germ Meat Loaf, Tasty Supper

Mixed in a jiffy and baked in the cool of the morning, this meat loaf needs only to be sliced at dinnertime. Garnish with deviled eggs and what could be more inviting for a back porch supper?

WHEAT GERM MEAT LOAF

1½ pounds ground chuck
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
½ cup wheat germ
1 egg, well beaten
1½ cups milk
¼ cup minced onion
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
2 tablespoons catsup

In a large bowl, combine all ingredients; mix well. Pack into greased 9 by 5 by 3-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven 350 F. 1½ hours, or until done. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Here's Recipes For Gala Days

Here are two good recipes to add to your collection. The potato recipe is for gala occasions, the lamb for every day.

Nutmeg Potato Puffs

2½ pounds potatoes
½ cup butter
1 cup water
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup sifted flour
4 eggs
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
1-16 teaspoon black pepper
deep fat for frying

Peel potatoes and boil in salted water until tender. While potatoes are cooking, bring butter, water and salt to boil. Add flour and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture leaves sides of pan and forms a ball (about 1 minute).

Cool slightly and beat in eggs one at a time, beating until smooth after each addition. Drain potatoes and press through ricer or mash until free of lumps. Add seasonings and blend in other mixture.

Drop by tablespoonfuls into hot deep fat (375 deg. F.). Fry light golden brown. Drain on brown paper and keep warm until ready to serve. Serves 5-6.

Lemon Barbecued Lamb Shanks

4 lamb shanks
2 tablespoons fat
1 clove garlic
flour
salt
pepper
paprika
¼ cup water
2 bay leaves
4 peppercorns
½ cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons grated lemon peel.

Heat the fat in a heavy skillet. Cut the garlic into 4 pieces and insert a piece in each lamb shank (by cutting a tiny gash in each one). Roll shanks in flour, salt, pepper and paprika. Brown them slowly in the hot fat.

Then add the water, bay leaves, peppercorns, lemon juice and lemon peel. Cover and simmer slowly. Add small amounts of water during cooking if necessary to prevent burning. Simmer 2 hours or until meat is fork tender. Spoon the sauce over the meat several times during cooking.

COOL-WEATHER SHORTCAKE

Shortcake's good in fall and winter, too! Don't serve this delicious dessert just for summertime use. Make your cool-weather shortcake with spongecake layers and sliced canned cling peaches; top with custard sauce.

HERE'S CHEESE DIP

Want a delicious cheese dip to serve with crisp crackers or potato chips? Mash a three-ounce package of cream cheese with a half cup (firmly packed) of soft cheddar cheese; beat in enough cream so the mixture will be fluffy and can be used for dunking. Season with Worcestershire sauce, garlic salt and paprika.

Fourth Major Detroit-St. Louis Deal Made

Trade Involves Six Players

Tigers Swap Trucks, White And Groth

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — In the fourth major Detroit-St. Louis deal in a year, the Tigers today traded pitchers Virgil Trucks and Hal White and center fielder Johnny Groth to the Browns for left fielder Bob Nieman, second baseman Owen Friend and catcher-outfielder J. W. Porter.

The swap, involving some $250,000 in player talent, did not include any cash according to Rudy Schaffer, Browns general manager.

Trucks, a 33-year-old righthander, pitched two no-hitters in 1952—against Washington in May and the New York Yankees in August—but wound up with a 5-19 record.

Groth, 26, a Detroit regular since 1949, hit .284 in 141 games and White, a 33-year-old relief pitcher, had a 1-8 record in 41 games.

The most important St. Louis player involved was Nieman, 25, a rookie sensation with a .289 batting average, 18 homers and 74 runs batted in. The right-handed hitter hit two straight homers against Boston in his major league debut, Sept. 14, 1951.

Porter, used both as a catcher and outfielder, received a $65,000 bonus from the Chicago White Sox as a free agent when he entered pro ball. Last season the 19-year-old prospect hit .250 for the Browns after spending most of the season at Memphis and Colorado Springs, two White Sox farms.

The Tigers will have to wait a week or so for Friend, 25, to be discharged from military service. He was the Browns' regular second baseman in 1950, hitting .237 in 119 games.

At first glance, it appeared that the Browns had the best of the latest trade, acquiring a starting pitcher in Trucks and a regular center fielder in Groth for one proven big leaguer—Nieman. However, the Tigers were reported hot after Porter, who has promise of becoming a future star.

Vic Janowicz Gets Release From Army

CAMP POLK, La. (AP)—The 37th Infantry Division announced Cpl. Vic Janowicz, All-America football player from Ohio State University, was released from active Army duty Monday.

Janowicz will sign as a catcher "within a few days" with the Pittsburgh Pirates, General Manager Branch Rickey said in Phoenix, Ariz. Rickey said Janowicz will receive a substantial bonus.

The Army did not elaborate on its release of the college football star.

Ray Hamilton, a teammate of Janowicz at Ohio State, also has been discharged, officials said. They indicated he plans to play professional football, possibly with the Los Angeles Rams.

Vic Seixas Whips Australia's McGregor

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Vic Seixas, of Philadelphia, playing captain of the United States Davis Cup team, whipped Australia's Ken McGregor in straight sets today, 7-5, 6-1, 6-2, to enter the final of the Victorian tennis championships.

Seixas will be pitted against Frank Sedgman, the Aussies' cup ace, in he final.

Sedgman trounced his countryman, Mervyn Rose, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3, in the other semi-final.

Earlier Maureen Connolly, American and Wimbledon champion from San Diego, Calif. and Julie Sampson of San Marino, Calif. had made it an All-American final in the women's singles.

Attendance Drops This Year At College Football Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Attendance at major college football games declined nearly 1½ per cent this season although four conferences reported big increases over 1951.

The annual Associated Press survey showed an over-all nation-wide drop of 1.49 per cent with the biggest decreases on the Pacific Coast and among the unorganized Eastern independents.

The actual crowd per game was smaller by only 378 customers—a figure subject to revision since some colleges furnished only round number estimates of their turnstile count. Only major conference members outside of the East counted.

The Southern, Southeastern, Big Seven and the Missouri Valley Conferences enjoyed flush seasons. The per game average in the Southeastern and Southern Conferences increased about 10.5 per cent The 1952 average was 27,222 a game in the Southeastern and 16,092 in the Southern.

Paced by fourth-ranked Oklahoma, the Big Seven drew an average of 25,741 for an increase of 6.88 per cent. The sprawling Missouri Valley Conference, led by the drawing power of Houston and Tulsa, had an average increase of 8.64 per cent.

In contrast the attendance was down 15 per cent in the Pacific Coast Conference, where some of the largest crowds of the season were recorded.

In the East, attendance as a whole declined 9.49 per cent although the Ivy League lost only 5.67 per cent. Pennsylvania topped the list in the East, as usual, with an estimated 372,000 fans for seven games. The Quakers were outdrawn only by Ohio State and Michigan in the Big Ten.

Ohio State was the nation's No. 1 gate attraction with a turn out of 453,911 for six home games. Michigan attracted 396,538 for the same number of contests at Ann Arbor.

But Big Ten attendance as a whole was down 3.22 per cent.

Cards' Saigh Asks TV Ban

Declares Television Hurts Attendance

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — President Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals said today he believed the National League should ban television from all parks for 1953 and reiterated his threat to refuse clubs to telecast their home games with St. Louis unless the Cards received a share of the TV receipts.

"There is no question in my mind that television is hurting the attendance," declared the Redbird boss. "However, to satisfy the skeptics, I suggest we ban video for one year to determine once and for all whether it hurts or helps baseball."

Informed the Giants and Dodgers, for example, have contracts that run through 1956 and are committed to televise 77 games per season, Saigh remained unshaken in his beliefs.

"We warned them three years ago of our intentions," he said, "and if they stuck their necks out with commitments, that's their fault. Television contracts are an assignable right and cannot be governed by baseball rules. We signed an agreement permitting the Giants and Dodgers to televise our games at the Polo Grounds and Ebbets' Field last year. We will not sign this year unless we get a fair division of the receipts."

Coley Wallace Stops Dunlap In Sixth

DETROIT (AP) — Coley Wallace looks like Joe Louis. And he ends his fights in Joe Louis style. But in between the start and the finish Coley doesn't always fight in the Louis pattern.

For instance, Wednesday night the 199-pound Wallace dropped 177-pound Bob Dunlap for a count of eight in the first round and stopped him in 46 seconds of the sixth round with a flashing right to the head. But in between, Wallace was never as hungry, never as stalking as the great heavyweight champion of former years.

In fact, the blood-splattered Dunlap jarred Wallace with constant lefts to the body and head in the second round of their nationally-televised fight.

And he fought Wallace on even terms through the third, fourth and fifth rounds. Then came the sudden end as Dunlap reeled to the floor with blood pouring out of his nose and mouth.

Recommends UC Leave Conference

CINCINNATI (AP) — The News-Record, University of Cincinnati student newspaper, recommended today in a front page editorial that UC withdraw from the Mid-American Conference.

The paper, writing of football, called the conference "a farce which . . . cannot be forever continued.' It added:

"When UC and Miami roll over all (league) competition by bigger and bigger scores each season, the competitive spirit is stifled. Soon other members will lose interest in the outcome of the league race. Who can blame them? The championship is always decided in Nippert Stadium (UC) on Thanksgiving Day."

The Mid - American conference, now a nine-team circuit, conducts competition in nine other sports. Other members are Miami, Bowling Green, Toledo, Western Michigan, Kent State, Ohio University, Western Reserve and recently admitted Marshall College.

Cincinnati and Miami have dominated the football championships.

Indians Make No New Deals

Not Interested In Vern Stephens

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "It looks as though we will have to go with what we've got next season," General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians said today.

"That's all right with us. We're not too bad off."

Hank, of course, was talking about the various "deals" he's been trying to make, particularly for a new shortstop. There just won't be any new shortstop to replace Ray Boone and George Strickland, he implied.

However, some people at the major-minor league meetings here think the Indians might make an arrangement of a secondary nature that would bring Floyd Baker of Washington to Cleveland as a utility infielder.

Baker's no great hitter. But he is an unusually good fielder, at both second and third base, and is regarded as more a favorite among ball players than fans.

A Youngstown man, Baker played third base for the Chicago White Sox for several years and has been playing second for Washington, leading the American League in fielding at that position last season.

The idea seems to be that the Senators don't need him now that they have a talented rookie named Leroy Dietzel.

Greenberg isn't interested in Vern Stephens, whom the Red Sox want to trade for Boone. Stephens has knee trouble and is regarded as an ex-star now.

Big Ten Coaches Mapping Schedules

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten football coaches hoped to complete mapping their 1955-1956 schedules today before being forced to turn the job over to the faculty committee.

Coaches and athletic directors huddled Wednesday night on the scheduling problem but there was no indication it was satisfactorily settled.

Each university was reported to have scheduled the required minimum of six conference games. But fixing the sites of these games has caused a stalemate. Under Big Ten rules, two of the six contests must be home games.

In order to set up the Big Ten football program, intersectional games already contracted may have to be altered.

Fitting Michigan State into the 1955-56 schedules, to the mutual satisfaction of all concerned, remains a block.

3 Groups Battle Over TV Games

NCAA, A. B. Dumont, Researchers At Odds

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Opinion Research Center of the University of Chicago, which is conducting surveys on the effect of television on college football, today got into the running battle between the NCAA and Dr. Allen B. Dumont, head of the Dumont TV network.

The NORC, stung by some of the criticisms leveled at its figures by Dr. Dumont, undertook to answer his barbs in a letter to Asa Bushnell, director of the NCAA's program. The answer was under the signature of Paul B. Sheatsley, its eastern representative.

The NORC, hired by both the NCAA and four TV networks to study the situation, maintains television does have an adverse effect on college football attendance, a point of view in direct contract with Dr. Dumont's.

". . . The denial in the face of the evidence of any adverse television effects have come unanimously from those parties who stand to gain financially by the elimination of any restrictions," the letter said. "Our results have been distorted, questioned or ignored by the Radio Television Manufacturers Association, by one or two colleges who could obtain large sums from the sale of their own TV rights, by advertising agencies whose self-interest is involved and now by Dr. Dumont."

Within the past three weeks, Dr. Dumont has been turned down in a request to televise six college football games locally, and retaliated by accusing the NCAA of "conducting a monopolitic boycotting operation' in its restricted program.

Illinois Rated First In Big Ten Basketball

CHICAGO (AP)—Most of the Big Ten basketball coaches have given up their crying towel tactics this season and look ahead with unusual optimism.

They agree generally that the new enlarged 18-game round robin schedule will tend to level off the title race by eliminating schedule breaks that could give some teams an easier path to the top.

Illinois is pegged the No. 1 contender. Indiana and Minnesota are next. Wisconsin and Northwestern figure to be the best also-rans.

81 Gridders Receive Awards During Salem High Assembly

The annual football recognition assembly was held Wednesday morning at Salem High School, with 81 players receiving awards.

Freshman Coach Vince Crawford gave out freshman numerals, Sam Pridon awarded the reserve letters, and Head Coach Ben Barrett passed out the varsity awards.

Barrett praised this year's team for never quitting in the face of a losing season. He said it was an indication of the character of the boys when, after losing six of their first eight games, they came back and won the last two.

Barrett also said that this year's team gave the fans their money's worth every game and plenty of thrills. He made special reference to the thrilling Lisbon game.

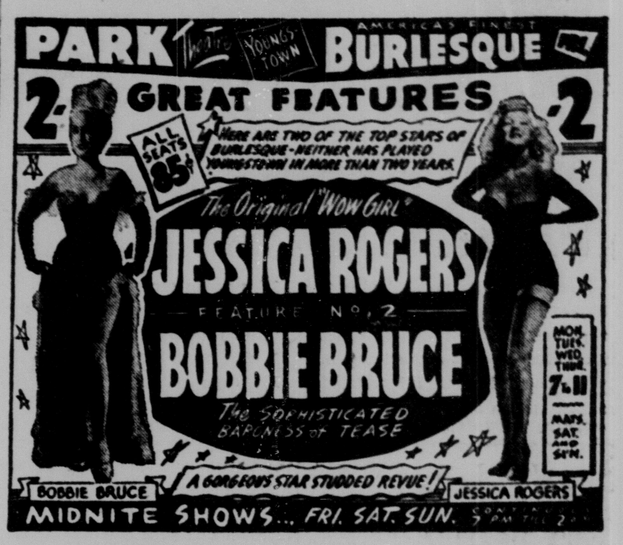

Barrett then introduced the captain-elect for next year, John Baker. He announced the winners of the most valuable player award. Co-Captain Nelson Mellinger, stellar halfback and Quarterback Joe Hrovatic. The team made the selections.

The coaches' award, presented by the coaches after studying the movies of every game, went to Jim Hrovatic.

Notre Dame's "Shift" Defended By Krause

CHICAGO (AP)—In a spirited defense of Notre Dame's "sucker shift" Athletic Director Ed Krause charges critics of the Irish offside-luring play with trying to kill "football wit and intelligence."

Krause, attending the Big Ten winter meeting, said Wednesday the controversial Irish shift actually was a complete play, no more illegal than the long-and-short signal count or the venerable "conversational play."

Halback Billy Vessels of Oklahoma, winner of the Heisman Trophy, had complained that the tricky Irish shift was an incomplete play (Vessels' inference was that the Irish had no specific attack on the play).

"Tell Mr. Vessels,' Krause said, "that Notre Dame has a complete repertoire of single wing plays and has had them since 1914."

A storm of controversy was stirred when Notre Dame used the touchdown in its 9-0 upset of Southern California last Saturday.

Krause explained that the Irish used the questioned play seven times this season and had it used against them by Pittsburgh and Iowa.

"The rule book says that any shift must come to a full second stop to be legal," said Krause. "Our play did that. Should we ring bells to tell an opponent a trick play is coming?"

Miami's Pagna Chosen Most Valuable Player

OXFORD, O. (AP) — Tom Pagna, Miami University's hard - running halfback from Akron, carried off the big prize Wednesday night at the Redskins' annual football banquet.

Pagna was chosen by his teammates as the most valuable player on a Miami team that lost only one of nine games during the past season.

The coaches selected these other award winners:

John McVay of Canton, most efficient offensive lineman; Jim Root of Toledo, most efficient offensive back; Lloyd Williams of Marion, most efficient defensive lineman, and Charles Lucas of Cleveland, most efficient defensive back.

Dom DiMaggio of the Boston Red Sox hit .283 in 1941 and 1947. He has never hit below that mark since entering organized baseball in 1937.
